

Embracing Differences

Discussion Points 1

One person in your class supports a football team that no one else has heard of. Someone makes a comment that they must be rubbish because they've not heard of them...

A boy in your class says a girl can't play football with the boys because she's a girl and girls aren't as good as boys

What do you think about what has been said?

What do you think about what has been said?

When you are in a shop, your friends buy fizzy drinks and lots of sweets. You don't like fizzy drinks especially at the moment because you have braces. Your friends call you boring for buying a bottle of water...

Your friend keeps calling you a baby because you haven't got a mobile phone yet...
You tell your parents because your the only one in your class without a phone but they say no, you don't need one until secondary school...

What do you think about what has been said?

What do you think about what has been said?
